Session #: 104101

Session name: Webinar 1: The Ethics of AAC: Providing Robust Communication for All Students

Description: Speech Language Pathologists are the professionals most qualified to address the complex communication needs of students who do not speak orally. However, not every SLP has the knowledge base to sufficiently assess and intervene with students who need Augmentative and Alternative Communication. This session is an ethics-based call to action so that every SLP's work embodies the principle that every student should have meaningful access to a robust communication system. SLPs who attend this session will receive basic to intermediate techniques and tools.

Special instructions: This is a webinar designed for SLPs and SLP-As and can be accessed through any computer with internet. Once you have registered through PITStop, a link will be sent to you for registration through the webinar program. You must register to "reserve your seat." Session name: K-1 Early Reading Essentials: R14 Literacy Collaborative

Description: Come join the new R14 Literacy Collaborative for K-1 educators. Any K-1 educator is welcome. If you attended a Literacy Academy, please feel free to bring your binder. If not, you will receive appropriate materials. We will review three of the essential concepts in early literacy-Phonological Awareness, Oral Language Development and Phonics. We'll especially focus on alphabet arcs and the need to introduce phoneme-grapheme mapping into your phonics curriculum. As part of the collaborative, participants will be asked to assess students and share their data. In return, participants will receive some small group materials to ensure success. Seeing students' growth and sharing with others is part of joining the collaborative. In addition, you'll meet other teachers across the region! In winter, this collaborative will meet again and focus on read-alouds. This same session on early literacy will be repeated November 7, so tell a friend!

Special instructions: Bring any digital device that supports your learning. Leave with materials to support your small group instruction in alphabet knowledge.

Session #: 104494

Session name: 2-3 Reading Essentials for STAAR Success: R14 Literacy Collaborative!

Description: Come join the new R14 Literacy Collaborative for 2-3 educators. Any 2-3 educator is welcome. If you attended a Literacy Academy, please feel free to bring your binder. If not, you will receive appropriate materials. We will review the 6 syllable types, word sorts, phoneme-grapheme mapping, early morphology, fluency and either questioning or read-alouds. As part of the collaborative, participants will be asked to assess students and share their data. In return, participants will receive tools to support classroom success. Seeing students' growth and sharing with others is part of joining the collaborative. In addition, you'll meet other teachers across the region! In winter, this collaborative will meet again and deepen our focus on fluency, read-alouds and questioning. This same session will be repeated November 9, so tell a friend.

Special instructions: Bring any digital device that supports your learning. Leave with various materials to support your reading instruction.

Session #: 104392

Session name: ONLINE: Expository Essay Exposed (Upper Elem.)

Description: In this six-hour, pre-recorded, ONLINE session using Google Classroom as the platform, you will experience how to guide your students to analyze a STAAR writing prompt to generate a specific topic, how to write a stellar introduction, how to build a strong body paragraph, and how to create a satisfying conclusion. We will take a deeper look at the academic language needed for explicit instruction using TEA's writing rubric and the various stages of the writing process. In addition, we will look at some other tools and resources to incorporate in order to prepare your students to write their engaging essay. Be prepared to write an example essay as a model for your students using what you learned in this series. You will have four days to complete each part.

Part 1 – Selecting a Topic (1 hour)

Part 2 – Hook and Thesis (2 hours)

Part 3 - Strong Body Paragraphs (2 hours)

Part 4 – Conclusion (1 hour)

This session is a repeat from summer 2017 with some minor revisions.

Special instructions: You do not have to be a Google Classroom expert to participate. You may work through all four Google Classroom sessions at your own pace in your own space on your own time using any device even though PitStop states the session is open from 9:00 AM - 4:00 PM. You must complete the series by 4:00 on Oct. 12th to receive six hours of CPE credit. Registered participants will be sent an invitation to begin each Google Classroom session (4) and detailed instructions the evening before the session.

Session #: 104518

Session name: STAAR Boot Camp: Day 1-- Explicit Vocabulary Instruction for Social Studies

Description: During the first of three Boot Camp days, educators will learn several different approaches to teaching academic vocabulary using explicit instruction. One of the most enduring findings in reading research is the extent to which students' vocabulary knowledge relates to their reading comprehension. Direct vocabulary instruction has an impressive track record of improving students' background knowledge and comprehension of academic content. Explicit teaching methods are key for students to internalize and recall vocabulary.

Special instructions: This training is part 1 of 3 individual workshops this fall. Participants are not required to attend all three.

Session #: 104352

Session name: Restorative Discipline Coordinators Training for Campus/District Implementation

Description: Restorative Discipline (RD) is a whole school relational approach to building school climate that fosters belonging over exclusion, social engagement over control and meaningful accountability over punishment.

This didactic and experiential five-day workshop delineates the scope of the RD coordinator role in fostering a successful whole school model. Participants will be equipped with the tools to not only implement and sustain a restorative discipline approach but to actually change the climate of a school campus. Restorative Discipline recognizes relationships as being at the heart of the educational experience in order to build healthy school communities, support students and teachers, and address discipline issues. Central to the training experience will be a focus on thinking and working contextually rather than following a pre-set model.

Session name: Elementary Vocabulary for ELAR Classroom: R14 Literacy Collaborative!

Description: This is a repeat of this summer's successful and new vocabulary workshop! If you attended, you know how many strategies we learned- so, please feel free to join us again! We begin with read alouds and how to embed effective vocabulary instruction. We will review the 6-syllable types and take a closer look at morphology and its impact on STAAR. We'll learn how to pick the perfect words for the week and practice using the research-based 6-step routine. If you have received these cards before or at a reading academy, please bring them. We'll practice using social studies text since we need to maximize our teaching through integration of the disciplines. We'll play fun games and try great strategies. In addition, since this is part of the new R14 Literacy Collaborative, you'll be able to measure student growth and celebrate success!

Special instructions: Bring any digital device that supports your learning. Bring the 6-step ringed vocabulary cards if you have received them. This is a new training incorporating those cards!

Session #: 104498

Session name: 4-5 Reading Essentials for STAAR Success: R14 Literacy Collaborative!

Description: Come join the new R14 Literacy Collaborative for 4-5 educators. Any 4-5 educator is welcome. If you attended a Reading to Learn Academy this summer, please bring your binder. If not, you will receive appropriate materials. We will review essential concepts in reading- assessing students' word recognition, ensuring fluency, and deepening comprehension with level -type questioning quickly covered in the summer academy. As part of the collaborative, participants will be asked to assess students and share their data. In return, participants will receive materials to support session activities. Seeing students' growth and sharing with others is part of joining the collaborative. In addition, you'll meet other teachers across the region! In winter, this collaborative will look at deeper fluency skills, motivation and comprehension. This session will repeat November 14, so tell a friend.

Special instructions: Bring any digital device that supports your learning. Leave with materials to support your students' success.

Session #: 104102

Session name: Webinar 2:Envision and Define Inclusive Related Service Practices

Description: Inclusive related service delivery models for related services such as Speech Therapy (ST), Occupational Therapy (OT), and Physical Therapy (PT) are documented as best practices when providing school based services. Therapeutic interventions provided in the context of the natural environment support children with disabilities and their teachers to readily apply interventions for skills being addressed. This first of a two-part webinar series will support practitioners to:

1. envision inclusive service delivery models;
2. identify the legal foundation underpinning inclusive related service practices;
3. discuss the educational benefits of inclusive practices as best practices for attaining better outcomes for children.

Special instructions: This is a webinar designed for SLPs and SLP-As and can be accessed through any computer with internet. Once you have registered through PITStop, a link will be sent to you for registration through the webinar program. You must register to "reserve your seat." PLEASE REGISTER PRIOR TO THE DAY OF THE WEBINAR.

Session name: Spelling K-5: Another Way to Impact STAAR Reading!

Description: How do you effectively teach students to spell? Learn a research-based routine and practice phoneme-grapheme mapping. This is a great follow-up for anyone who attended a literacy academy. We did not explicitly cover spelling in detail in the academies, but we will today. We will plan a spelling lesson for an upcoming week, so bring a list of words for the next few weeks. This is a great training- one I have offered many times. If you need a refresher, please join us again! If you're still trying to decide, did you know spelling has positive impacts on reading comprehension? As in better spellers are often good readers, but good readers are not necessarily effective spellers. So, if you want to impact STAAR scores-try these research-based ideas for spelling!

Special instructions: As always, bring any digital device that supports your learning! Leave with many tools. Participants should bring a spelling list for an upcoming week!

If you did not attend, but are considering this session, welcome! If you attended a Literacy Academy, please feel free to bring your binder. If not, you will receive appropriate materials. We will review three of the essential concepts in early literacy-Phonological Awareness, Oral Language Development and Phonics. We'll especially focus on alphabet arcs and the need to introduce phoneme-grapheme mapping into your phonics curriculum. As part of the collaborative, participants will be asked to assess students and share their data. In return, participants will receive some small group materials to ensure success. Seeing students' growth and sharing with others is part of joining the collaborative. In addition, you'll meet other teachers across the region! In winter, this collaborative will meet again and focus on read-alouds.

Special instructions: Bring any digital device that supports your learning. Leave with materials to support your small group instruction in alphabet knowledge.

Session name: Review for GT Supplemental Certification Exam

Description: This half day course will review for the State Board of Educator Certification (SBEC) G/T Supplemental TExES exam.

Teachers who pass the exam will receive a Gifted and Talented Certification. This certification is not required by the state of Texas for teachers of the gifted. Teachers who take this test currently do so on a voluntary basis. The state currently requires that teachers who provide services to the gifted must complete 30 hours of G/T professional development in nature and needs of the gifted, assessment of the gifted, and curriculum for the gifted.

The content on the G/T Supplemental test is derived from the G/T standards. Those standards are listed on the SBEC website under the Standards and Testing link. The test is a multiple choice test. Also on the SBEC website is a study guide with sample questions.

Session #: 104514

Session name: 4-5 Reading Essentials for STAAR Success: R14 Literacy Collaborative!

Description: Come join the new R14 Literacy Collaborative for 4-5 educators. Any 4-5 educator is welcome. This session is a repeat of the October 19th session. If you missed it and would like to join us now, welcome! If you attended a Reading to Learn Academy this summer, please bring your binder. If not, you will receive appropriate materials. We will review essential concepts in reading- assessing students' word recognition, ensuring fluency, and deepening comprehension with level -type questioning quickly covered in the summer academy. As part of the collaborative, participants will be asked to assess students and share their data. In return, participants will receive materials to support session activities. Seeing students' growth and sharing with others is part of joining the collaborative. In addition, you'll meet other teachers across the region! In winter, this collaborative will look at deeper fluency skills, motivation and comprehension.

Special instructions: Bring any digital device that supports your learning. Leave with various materials to support your reading instruction.

Session #: 104103

Session name: Webinar 3: Strategies for Introducing Inclusive Related Service Practices

Description: Inclusive related service delivery models for services such as Speech Therapy (ST), Occupational Therapy (OT) and Physical Therapy (PT) are documented as best practices when providing school-based services. Therapeutic interventions provided in the context of the natural environment support children with disabilities and their teachers to readily apply interventions for skills being addressed. This second part of a two-part webinar series will support practitioners to:

1. explore changes processes encountered by practitioners when transitioning to integrated practices;
2. develop collaborative IEP goal writing practices;
3. identify strategies for introducing inclusive practices to stakeholders.

Special instructions: This is a webinar designed for SLPs and SLP-As and can be accessed through any computer with internet. Once you have registered through PITStop, a link will be sent to you for registration through the webinar program. You must register to "reserve your seat." PLEASE REGISTER PRIOR TO THE DAY OF THE WEBINAR.

Description: Are you ready to be challenged to think about a text as a reader and then as a writer? Explore two texts, both written by the same author, but one is a drama and one is a short story. This is a repeat of a great summer workshop. (Teachers told me!) Students will find these new tools very engaging. We will utilize best practices in teaching both genres with our focus being on helping students understand author's craft. We will also be up, moving and exploring how to get the whole class engaged in reading a play. Bring comfy shoes. We'll be acting. Oh, and be prepared to "ham it up"! Perfect lesson ideas to begin new year with in January as you review genres!

Session #: 104519

Session name: What Do K-12 Reading Teachers Have to Know About Executive Skills? THEY IMPACT COMPREHENSION!

Description: Have you ever had students who are fluent decoders but struggle with comprehension, even retelling? (Research says they need assistance with executive skills.) Have you ever wondered how to help students actually think about the author or actually understand a character's feelings? (STAAR Figure 19D) How do learning disabilities affect student's cognitive skills? Have you ever felt stressed and noticed that you do not think as well? Welcome to the world of executive skills! These mental skills help us manage tasks and achieve goals. However, they can and must be taught. We will look at how to adjust our reading comprehension instruction and intervention to assist students who struggle. All of these strategies are part of Effective Instruction! We are not focusing on how to assess these skills; many ways are informal and we'll practice a few. Instead, we are looking at how to adjust reading comprehension instruction to ensure that all students succeed, K-12.

Fall 2017-18 Workshops

Session #: 104300

Session name: Executive Functions: What are they and how do we evaluate them?

Description: "Executive functions" is a term used to describe a broad set of cognitive skills that, when working properly, allow students to manage impulses, work in a deliberate and thoughtful manner, and organize their time and materials. When development of these skills is delayed, as is often the case in those with learning disabilities, ADHD, or emotional disorders, academic performance suffers. When working with students who have special educational needs, it is imperative that professionals also consider whether or not the student is displaying age-appropriate executive skills; additional assessment and intervention may be necessary. This workshop will begin by defining the term "executive functioning" using clear, easy to understand terms, and then we will investigate several of the most common tools used to assess the executive functions including semi-structured interviews, standardized symptom inventories (e.g., Conners 3, BRIEF 2) and formal psychometric tests (e.g., Delis Kaplan EFS)

Session #: 104442

Session name: How Anxiety Disorders and Trauma Impacts the Classroom

Description: When a child is squirming in his seat and not paying attention, we tend to think of ADHD, but anxiety could also be the cause. When kids are anxious in the classroom, they might have a hard time focusing on the lesson and ignoring the worried thoughts overtakes their brains. It might look like truancy, but for kids for whom school is a big source of anxiety, refusing to go to school is also pretty common. Acting out is another thing we might not associate with anxiety. But when a student is compulsively kicking the chair of the kid in front of him, or throws a tantrum whenever the schedule is ignored or a classmate isn't following the rules, anxiety may well be the cause.

Come a learn from River Crest Hospital representative about the various ways that anxiety can impact a students performance in school

Session #: 104524

Session name: STAAR Boot Camp: Day 3 -- Analyzing Historical Sources

Description: Analyzing primary sources is an essential skill found in the TEKS of every social studies course beginning in kindergarten. During day 3 of STAAR Boot Camp, we will look at effective strategies to analyze different types of primary and secondary sources such as artifacts, images, political cartoons, documents, sound and video sources. Resources from the National Archives and the Library of Congress will be used. Consider areas of your curriculum where there is the need for more sources to fulfill the demands of the TEKS and come prepared to use it for your search focus.

Special instructions: This training is part 3 of 3 individual workshops this fall. Participants are not required to attend all three. Bring a digital device.

Session #: 104407

Session name: Assessing Writing in a Nutshell (Grades 3-5)

Description: Join me as I demonstrate some tips in scoring student essays in a quick, efficient, and accurate way by unpacking TEA's STAAR Writing Rubric. We will review the non-negotiables for each score point to allow you to emphasize the most important skills to make a positive difference in improving writing scores in elementary grade levels. We will discuss what the non-negotiables consist of as well as calibrate some essays while reviewing the rubric using a flowchart. In addition, we will look at some strategies to incorporate during the writing process to help improve your students' writing skills.

This session will also get 4th grade teachers ready for the 3rd Annual Essay Extravaganza taking place in January 2018 if you plan to participate!

This is a three-hour session (AM).

Special instructions: Feel free to bring a few images ranging from low to high (score of 0 to 4) from your campus from the 2017 spring administration if you teach 4th grade. Contact your testing coordinator if you haven't received them. This is optional!
